Omaha Man to Prove O'Connor His Father

HASTINGS, Neb., Nov. 17 .- (Special Telegram.)-With the taking of depositions in various parts of the country John Kirkman of 1544 North Sixteenth street, Omaha, will complete the preliminary part of his undertaking to prove that John O'Connor was his father,

The search that Mr. Kirkman has made to secure evidence has taken him over a journey of some 18,000 miles. He says he has found the necessary connecting links in his chain of evidence and will be able to disprove the claims of the other 100 or more claimants to the $100,000 O'Connor estate.

Mr. Airkman is an automobile body builder. His father was a shoemaker, The claimant says he will be able to fully explain why the father changed his name and died without revealing his real identity and family connections.

Gunnerson says that he noticed all of these actions and got a fairly good look at the man's face, because a month before he and another street car man were held up on their way name from work and on another occasion his car was held up at Riverview park. These two occurrences prompted him to watch carefully everybody who boarded his car at late hours. Gunnerson believes Hauser is the man who got on his car the night of the murder. The photographs of Hauser in the possession of the police very closely resemble the passenger, Gunnerson declares.

Rich and Pszanowski account for the fact that the man boarded the car at Fortleth and Farnam streets by the theory that he ran from Fortleth and Mr. Justice Hughes has before him Cuming, where he left Miss Grace Slater, a certified copy of the Epperson peover up his tracks.

Engine sparks are thought to have been the cause. Tem McNeal, a car repairer, discovered the fire burning at the base of the north wall and he turned a small hose on it and apparently extinguished it. It smouldered in the wall, however, for the entire side of the building was in flames within a few minutes.

An alarm was sent through the hotel and the guests were able to save nearly all their effects before the smoke and flames reached the corridors.

The baggage room was quickly cleared of property, as were the newsstand, hotel lobby and ticket office. The day clerk at the hotel, Edgar Henry, lost some clothing and $100 while attempting to Hughes. But Mr. Hughes is not even notify hotel guests. The building is a ponderous frame structure and burned like tinder, the firemen confining their efforts to preventing the spread of the flames. This depot had been standing for over thirty-five years.

BERLIN, Nov. 17 .- (Via London.) -Attempts of the Serbians to check the Austro-German drive have again failed, the war office announced today. More than 2,000 Serbians were captured yesterday.

LONDON, Nov. 17 .- The fate of the Serbian army may be only a matter of hours. Monastir, in southcast Serbia, is reported to be in such a perilous position that the consular officials have departed from the city. From the various conflicting reports which have reached the public, the following apparently may be deemed as facts: The Bulgarians have taken Krusevo and are six miles west of Perlope. Thus the southern Serbian army and its Franco-British allies are confronted with the imminent peril of an outflanking movement. Tetovo is in the hands of the Bulgarians. The fate of the Serbians holding Babuna Pass is more obscure. One report states that the pass has been forced. It seems certain that the defenders are at least threatened so seriously that their position soon may be untenable, With Krusevo and Babuna in the Petrograd reports merely admit Austro-German occupation of the village of Pidgacie about five miles from the river and a slight advance east of that place. It is asserted the advantage gained by the Teutonic forces in this region is due to the arrival of reinforcements from other sections of the eastern front and heavy artillery brought up by the rallroad. From the conflicting reports it may be seen that the east bank of the Styr is held by the Russians, while the battle for the crossings is still undecided,
